

Break a leg! – A1

KA1 Youth Exchange

03rd to 14rd of April 2020

Pocuvadlianske Jazero, SLOVAKIA

About the host organisation

Ingens Risus is a non-governmental non-profit organization that aims to sustain the interest of the youth from rural and small urban areas from the Harghita County and not only from this region, and to help into strengthening the relationships between the people who come from minorities or different ethnic or social environments. Our organisation represents a fusion of two aspects: the need of having an instance for developing projects or activities, which will chase our main goal; and the sense of initiative which helped us in improving other activities in which we took part. Therefore, we decided in March 2017 to create an organisation which will contribute to the personal and professional development of the youth from minorities and which have fewer opportunities.

About our project

When we compare local communities across Europe, the issues affecting young people shift and change like a kaleidoscope. But recent scientific research posits that regardless of variation in local issues, engaging young people with their emotions through arts such as theatre, is a vital part of personal development in any community.

Our project consists in two mobilities, which means we will select as much as possible young people who can participate in both of them. The first mobility-A1 will take part in Slovakia, where 40 participants can stimulate their creativity, thought process and experience learning through theatrical instruments while acquiring the basics skills of theatre and assessing where they'll fit best for the following stages of the project.

The second mobility-A2 will take place in Romania, at the Black sea between 28.08-06.09.2020 where 40 participants (vast majority from the first part of the mobility) can create an entire play (script, scenery, costumes, music, acting and directing) from 0, to play it in front of a live audience, performance that will also be recorded and disseminated properly on several video channels, themed sites and social media environments, ensuring it reaches its target audience and creates E+ visibility.

Objectives

O1: Work in intercultural ensembles; specifically enhancing abilities/competences of listening/respect towards others and exhibit a fundamental working knowledge of the basic areas of theatre: acting, directing, design, voice, etc.

O2: Develop competences in oral language and expressive mechanisms (voice and physicality expression), develop understanding in psychological and moral analysis of a character (analytical aptitudes) and learn the elements of stagecraft and production

O3: Create a theatrical play from 0 (script, scenery, costumes, music, acting, directing and recording), involving all participants, to be played in front of a live audience and recorded as an output for DEOR.

The profile of participants

This project is addressed to those who are normally deprived of wide access to information on personal and professional development. Lack of information on possibilities for that development may result in low level of initiative. Thus, the project responds to the need of young people to learn, develop and improve to empower them to take action regarding their current situation and future, to be more initiative. This opportunity is addressed to any youth interested in the topic of theatre as well as in the topic of directing, recording and putting together the elements of a theater play.

NO high level of English is required to participate; moreover, the project will help in the development of English speaking skills. None of the participants or facilitators are native English speakers, so there is nothing to be afraid 😊

From each country the partner organisations will try to maintain an equal number of boys and girls in order to achieve gender balance in our youth exchange. To be sure that gender discrimination, or any other discrimination for that manner excluded, the whole agenda of activities was designed to be gender neutral and not oriented in a such a way that a specific skill set would be required or would create an advantage.

Each partner will select the participants as follows

Country of origin	Number of participants/ age	Number of group leaders	Name of the organization
Hungary	8 Participants aged 18-23	1 group leader aged over 18	ISZOSZ
Romania	8 Participants aged 18-23	3 group leaders aged over 18	Ingens Risus
Slovakia	8 Participants aged 18-23	1 group leader aged over 18	Obciansky Spolok
Bulgaria	8 Participants aged 18-23	1 group leader aged over 18	ICDET
Macedonia	8 Participants aged 18-23	1 group leader aged over 18	Volunteer Center Skopje

The results

The desired short-term outcome is to successfully stimulate creativity, self-knowledge, self-expression and inclusion for all participants, and experience the benefits of learning through theatrical instruments while acquiring the basics skills of theatre and benefit from the experience of creating an entire play and playing it in front of people.

As for the medium-term results, this project and mobility will impact the participant's view of theatre and theatre based learning as a real need in our lives, stimulate their abilities for invention, improvisation and an overall better use of their imagination, and possibly affect their educational choices for the future.

One core outcome that we all pursue is to influence the current perception of discovery-based learning, whilst also guiding participants to better express themselves, and be ready to work with a team mentality in order to accomplish a common goal.

Also, being an intercultural environment reuniting 5 countries participants will get to know other cultures and be more culturally aware and understanding. In addition, through methods used and team work participants will be having many dialogues that will give them the chance to practice their English and improve another valuable skill generally useful. Through the sessions planned the young people will develop their cultural awareness; learn how to interact in a non-formal context with other youths from a different country; find out how they can benefit in the future from the opportunities emerged after this YE. The Youthpass certificate will reflect their learning process.
